Title: Orientation on Capitaline Database

Date: 08/10/2024

Classes Attended & Number of beneficiaries: I MBA - A, B, C section. 187 Students

Name and details of the Resource Person

Session details	Name	Designation	Organization
Capitaline Database	Mr. Gurumurthy G.	Assistant Manager, Finance	Capital Market Publishers India Pvt Ltd, Bengaluru.

Objective: The objective of the session on the “CAPITALINE DATABASE” was to familiarise first-year MBA students with the functionalities and applications of the Capitaline database. The session aimed to equip students with essential skills for extracting and utilising financial data effectively, fostering a deeper understanding of corporate finance and analysis.

Write up on the Programme:

Kristu Jayanti College's Library Resource Usage Optimisation Committee, in collaboration with the School of Management, was delighted to organize a session for the first-year MBA students on the CAPITALINE DATABASE by Mr. Gurumurthy G, Assistant Manager, Finance, Capital Market Publishers India Pvt. Ltd., Bengaluru. The session took place on October 8, 2024, from 4:30 PM to 5:30 PM and was coordinated by Dr. Anandraj J.

The session provided a brief overview of how to extract and use data in the simplest way using “CAPITALINE-AWS.” The resource person underlined that Capitaline was an indispensable tool for finance professionals offering exhaustive information, including historical financial data at the schedule level, shareholding patterns, share pricing data spanning 10 to 25 years, corporate announcements, financial news, press releases, and alerts. It allows users to acquire the financial data of a company during any timeframe in one snapshot on a screen.

Mr. Gurumurthy emphasized how an annual report is prepared, detailing the six components: the Auditors' Report, the Board's Report, Management Discussion and Analysis, Financial Statements, the Board of Directors, and the Chairman's Statement. He explained how to obtain company details while searching for financial data and discussed the corporate governance structure, which emphasizes transparency and ethical business conduct. He also provided information on dividend releases by different companies.

Additionally, he demonstrated how to compare and analyze the financial performance of companies over different years using charts and sector-based comparisons. He provided insights on using screener data, how to select companies based on their domain and price, and how percentage changes in data can be easily acquired. Screener data offers financial performance data of any company for up to 25 years, and it can be modified to suit specific needs, such as for 10 years or 5 years and finally Mr. Gurumurthy detailed how data can be easily extracted and used in Excel.

The session enabled students to gain valuable insights into the various financial services and information provided by CAPITALINE-AWS, aiding in the analysis of financial performance and comparison of data across various domains.

Learning Outcome:

By the end of the session, students learned several important concepts and skills related to the Capitaline database. They gained an understanding of the database's structure, features, and the types of data it provides. Students learned how to efficiently extract financial data using “CAPITALINE-AWS” and how to analyze and compare the financial performance of companies across different sectors and timeframes through data visualization tools, including charts. They recognized the key components of an annual report and understood their significance in terms of corporate governance and transparency. Furthermore, they learned how to utilize screener data to select companies based on specific criteria, such as domain and price, and interpreted percentage changes in financial data. Finally, they acquired the ability to extract and use data in Excel for practical applications, enhancing their overall analytical capabilities in finance.

Title: Book Review by Students Presentation

Date: 03/10/2024

Classes Attended & Number of beneficiaries: I MBA – B & C section. 114 Students

Objective: The objective of the presentation was to help students better understand business concepts and ethical principles through books, improve their public speaking skills, and encourage discussions on how these lessons apply to real-life situations.

Write up on the Programme:

Ethical behavior and personal integrity are critical for future leaders in today's business landscape. The MBA curriculum integrates ethics, leadership, and life lessons as core elements to prepare students for responsible decision-making.

Kristu Jayanti College's Library Resource Usage Optimisation Committee, in collaboration with the School of Management on 3rd Oct 2024 had a book Review Presentation by MBA students, designed with the above philosophy in mind. Students were encouraged to explore books that delved into professional and personal ethics, focusing on character-building, decision-making, and life lessons beyond the classrooms. This event allowed students to reflect on how values and principles shape their leadership journey and decision-making process. The students were tasked with selecting books related to business, management, professional, personal, and other relevant fields, which were then analyzed and presented by the students.

The structure of the presentation was that it had an introduction, key concepts and learning, critical comments, and a question-and-answer session. This is done to enhance students' stage fear, and presentation skills, to put them into reading habits, self-awareness, and a lot more for the development of each student.

Learning Outcome:

The learning outcomes of the presentations made by students are that we gained a better understanding of ethical and business concepts, improved our confidence in public speaking, and learned how to apply ideas from books to real-world situations. Overall, the presentation strengthened our academic foundation and prepared us for the complexities of the business world.

Each student demonstrated impressive engagement with the given texts, showcasing their ability to analyze complex concepts and communicate their insights effectively. One strength of the event was the clarity and passion with which students presented their ideas, allowing for a strong connection with the audience.

In essence, the MBA Students Book Review Presentation was a transformative journey that empowered students to explore the vital intersection of ethics and business. Through their analyses, they not only enhanced their public speaking and critical thinking abilities but also crafted meaningful connections between theory and practice. Ultimately, this experience has ignited a passion for lifelong learning and ethical leadership among the participants.

Time : 9.00 AM

Classes Attended : BSc Forensic Science, BSc BTFS IV Sem

Number of participants : 242

Objectives:

1. Enhance critical thinking by comparing fictional movie elements with factual evidence.

Write up on the Programme:

The event, titled "Explore Beyond Borders: Map Activity," was conducted on 28 February 2025. Dr. Ashwini Barla, Assistant Professor at Kristu Jayanti College, served as the resource person for the program. The event began with an introductory session where Dr. Barla explained the basics of map reading, highlighting key features such as scale, symbols, and grid references. Students were also informed about the significance of maps in navigation, planning, and understanding global geography.

Following the theoretical session, students participated in a practical map activity. They were provided with worksheets containing exercises designed to test their map-reading skills. The activities included:

- Map Identification: Students were asked to identify different map symbols and features.
- Grid Reference Practice: Participants practiced locating places using grid references.

The event was well-received by the students, who demonstrated improved understanding and interest in map reading. The hands-on activities helped reinforce theoretical concepts, enhancing their spatial awareness and geographical knowledge. The program concluded with a Q&A session, where students interacted with Dr. Barla to clarify doubts and share their experiences.
