- 3. Progressions: Arithmetic Progression; finding the nth term of AP and sum to nth term of AP; insertion of arithmetic means in given terms of AP and representation of AP; Geometric Progression; finding nth term of GP; sum to nth term of GP; insertion of geometric means in given geometric progression and also representation of GP.
- 4. Matrices and Determinants: Operations of addition, subtraction and Multiplication of two matrices; problems; transpose of square matrix; Determinants of square matrix; minor of an element; co factor of an element of determinant; Ad joint of a square matrix; singular and non-singular matrices; Inverse of a Square Matrix Solution; problems on linear equations; two variables using Cramer's rule.

Outcome:

As a new initiative, the department is confident to see students fare relatively better in their exams. This should considerably increase the pass percentage of the BBA students and will reduce the burden of arrears in the coming semesters. These classes will also address the academic needs of students who are introverts in the first year itself, and hopefully will provide them confidence to be more active in the coming semesters.

Outcome:

As a new initiative, the department is confident to see students fare relatively better in their exams. This should considerably increase the pass percentage of the BBA students and will reduce the burden of arrears in the coming semesters. These classes will also address the academic needs of students who are introverts in the first year itself, and hopefully will provide them confidence to be more active in the coming semesters.

The following students attended the remedial classes on 18th, 19th and 20th of March 2019 between 2.40 p.m. - 4.30 p.m.

DEPARTMENT OF MANAGEMENT (BBA) REPORT ON REMEDIAL CLASSES EVEN SEMESTER 2018 – 19

Objective:

To dedicate extra classes for selected students, in order to improve their performance in the end semester exams of “Financial Accounting.”

Process:

The students were identified by the respective subject teachers based on the student’s mid semester scores, CIA performance and class interactions. Students who displayed slow learning tendencies were encouraged to part of these classes, which in turn would help them score better marks in their final exams.

Tools:

Tools used for remedial classes during this academic year were class attendance reports, orientation on question paper pattern, guided problem solving sessions etc.

System:

The department instructed the selected students to attend remedial classes on 5th, 8th and 12th of March 2019 between 2.40 p.m - 3.30 p.m. The respective faculty members assigned (Prof Gincy Charles) for the classes were expected to monitor the attendance of the students on all three days.

Outcome:

As a new initiative, the department is confident to see students fare relatively better in their exams. This should considerably increase the pass percentage of the BBA students and will reduce the burden of arrears in the coming semesters. These classes will also address the academic needs of students who are introverts in the first year itself, and hopefully will provide them confidence to be more active in the coming semesters.
