SILENT CRIES

India does not only exist being a land with diversified culture, traditions and language but also with wealth disparity and poverty in every corner of the country. Living an urban life with huge MNCs and magnificent villas and hotels gives us only about ten percent of this country's life and people. The other ninety percent is what constitutes the country and what might be referred to as the essence of this nation. As one walks across towns and cities, one will discover that every street or path will speak of this disparity. While the elegant aristocrats live their contented life in their skyscrapers, homeless and with starving bellies the other class of people wander the streets in uncertainty, hoping for a future with a difference, praying for a miracle to wipe their sorrows away. Mahatma Gandhi rightly said, "The soul of India lives in its villages." But glimpses of the real struggle and inequity among men are visibly seen in the streets of India's metropolitan cities.

No other person in this world can teach more than a little child. Being happy no matter what, enjoying to the fullest, searching happiness in little things, trying to embrace everything they have. They are the purest and sin free, they are not aware of what's happening around world. They love everyone without any discrimination- children are the pure soul on the earth.

Different people have different stories here. Many people may have thought of only one side of the city as a newcomer, but as we explore, we get to see different sides of different people in their lives.

A narrow, tree-lined street in Bengaluru. On the right, there is a white building with a black gate featuring gold-colored accents. The street is paved with cobblestones and has a large tree on the left. A sign with the letters 'DJAS' is visible on a fence in the background.

The city of Bengaluru has a rich lifestyle, with an eye on aesthetics of its architecture and the streets, which altogether adds to the beauty and aesthetics of the city.

LIFE

Hope is a very deep and closest part of our lives, as there is no one on the earth who doesn't believe in having hopes. And to have a hope, that one day we'll be lucky enough to achieve certain things in life, is also great and it keeps you moving on in the future. The small scale business men has a hope in their life. And this hope makes them stick to their job from the dawn to the dead of night.

The consumption of unhealthy diets is heavily influenced by marketing and other contributing factors such as easy access but a change towards healthy future is possible by having a healthy balanced diet, made up of variety of foods which includes good fats and proteins leading to the promotion of good health which will in turn help us to fight illness

Bangalore has progressed from a garden city to one of the most desirable cities in the world by achieving the ideal balance of modernity and tradition. Some of Bangalore's best restaurants demonstrate how Karnataka's capital has evolved into a rich and diverse food paradise for both visitors and locals. As a newcomer to the city, a person may feel homesick or lonely because he or she has not been able to obtain the appropriate food for their emotions. However, as previously stated, Bangalore has every type of food from south to north, west to east. However, there is still a lack of traditional foods that can be available to every Assamese living in Bangalore. Assamese food evokes strong feelings in every Assamese.

As George Bernard Shaw rightly stated, "there is no love sincerer than the love of food." We humans are so involved in the world of food that we cannot even imagine our lives without different cuisines and the taste of every item on the menu.

Eating to satisfy our stomachs is not the same as eating to satisfy our souls. Every food that we eat in our lives is associated with emotions. Every food, every dish, has a unique story and set of emotions associated with it.

The unexpected pandemic and its never ending lockdown was difficult for most of us. The lockdown for many was a medium to reach to their desires or unexplored self-version.

College is a time of development, growth, and stress. It's time to discover new worlds, push yourself, and stress. The lifestyle of students may seem like fun and interesting but there are so many stories behind every student.

"SOME WITH GADGETS, SOME WITH LADLE"

While some sing, others listen.
While some play, other watch.
While some smile, others admire.

All of us, the Human Race, may walk different paths and choose different ways but our goal is always the same 'Freedom'.

We believe that, the one who had created us, has injected a powerful tool, which has the capacity even to stop a conflict between two persons/ families/ religion, even two states/countries. And this powerful tool takes just a fraction of seconds, to show the magical outcome. And therefore, I think, the best way to start our day is with "Just a Smile", the universal language.

A cobbler, also known as a shoemaker or cordwainer are talented professionals. It's one of the world's oldest professions that peaked long ago, but is still going strong. Every shoe is a puzzle that must be solved and the cobbler must be able to do it even if it's a challenge.

Every year, the LGBTQ community in the United States and other parts of the world come together to celebrate Pride Month, also known as Gay Pride with colourful flags, vibrant parades, workshops, and awareness programmes. The month aims to recognise and celebrate the work done to achieve equal justice and opportunity for the community, as well as the impact it has had on history at all levels.

THE UNFAMILIAR TRUTH: INCREASING SLUMS IN BANGLORE

India is country of the third richest man of the world, is also the top in the list of the countries recorded as the lowest economic growth. These two extremes mark the land of India. increase in slum dwellers is unhygienic or unhealthy lifestyle, that is, most of them lack a proper housing and the absence of it can negatively leads to health and safety issue.

IF IT HAS TO COME THEN IT'LL COME

"The question is what about wearing sunglasses at night?"

2019 and 2020 brought many new cultures to society. From lockdown to online classes, it gave a new phase and practice to the society and its beloved human beings. 2021 made life much easier and relaxed; not because the virus count reduced, just because humans gave in covid. Not just giving in, they also came up with a new slogan, "if it has to come, then it will come; regardless of however and wherever we are."

Waste produced in the world has been growing considerably for many decades in affluent countries. Despite important technological advancements, improved legislation and regulatory systems in the field of waste management, the public acceptance of the location of new waste disposal and treatments facilities is still very low due to concern about adverse effect on the environment and human health.
