RESEARCH CENTRE IN COMMERCE

Research at Kristu Jayanti College

Kristu Jayanti College has consciously increased its thrust on faculty members to undertake research. Faculty-Researchers in Kristu Jayanti College are guided by a Research Centre which promotes research among staff and students. The Research Centre facilitates participation and paper contribution by teachers at various national and international conferences and seminars. Staff members are also encouraged to participate in workshops and faculty development programmes, especially related to honing their research skills. Teachers are also provided additional incentives for top-quality publications. The Research Centre is chaired by the Dr. Justin Nelson Michael, Director, Centre for Research, Kristu Jayanti College.

Research Ethics

The institution upholds academic integrity in all area of research. The purpose of academic research is to create new knowledge and push the boundaries in various disciplines. Research can be undertaken on the basis of what we already know; research enables us to learn new things and makes us capable of learning further. Teachers involved in research inspire and equip students to take up research, thus producing better prepared and better qualified researchers who contribute to their disciplines, to the nation and to the world. There is ample evidence that learning outcomes improve when educators are involved in research. Teachers engaged in research tend to be updated with current developments in their fields and would be familiar with the latest facts and developments which could be different from those mentioned in books and printed material that are dated.

Research Centre in Commerce

The Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D) in Commerce is offered by Bengaluru North University. Research Centre in Commerce has been established under Bengaluru North University in the year 2018.
