Two Day Campaign in Commemoration of UN Day

Date: 22/10/2021 and 23/10/2021

In commemoration of the United Nations Day, the Department of Media Studies (PG) of Kristu Jayanti College (Autonomous), Bengaluru, organised a two-day campaign, “Make a Difference: Be the Difference”, as part of rural exposure. The campaign was conducted in Kannamangala, Purushanahalli, and Kanaswadi Governments schools with a focus on student empowerment and rural analysis. To reduce the inequalities and to measure the digital divide in the village, numerous programs were conducted by the students.

A survey was conducted to analyse the impact of Covid-19 in the village and their difficulties to encounter the pandemics. The exposure of the rural population to media platforms in a digital age for information and awareness was also analysed as part of the survey. One hundred fifty school children in the villages were empowered by conducting different curricular and extracurricular activities. The effectiveness of the vaccination drive in the villages was also measured to understand the efficiency of vaccination campaigns.

A green awareness drive at the village households was also a part of the campaign. Five hundred saplings were planted in the village in the campaign days, and 55 saplings were distributed to the children in schools to nurture for the future. Two thousand masks, sanitisers, and Covid awareness leaflets were also dispersed in the village to ensure safety during pandemics.

The campaign was conducted in partnership with Gujarat Tourism and WFV (Water for Voiceless). The media students were able to initiate development programs in the village successfully. A variety of programs, including cultural and experimental design, were organised for children to engage with the mainstream. Dr Juby Thomas, Faculty of Media Studies (PG), and Prof. Rethesh Palakkuzhyil, from the Department of Tourism, coordinated the two-day campaign.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL WORK 2021- 2022

Social Work Camp (2021 – 2023 Batch)

The Department of Social Work, Kristu Jayanti College, Bangalore organised the Social Work Camp for the first-year students in close collaboration with the Ashalaya Trust Vidya Nagar, Central Telecom Society, Bengaluru, Karnataka. The camp commenced from the 23rd of May 2022 and ended on the 29th of May 2022; it was held in the village of Hutthanahalli. The village is situated 11km away from sub-district headquarter Bangalore North (tehsildar office) and 11km away from district headquarter Bangalore. The major languages spoken in this area are Kannada, Tamil, Hindi. The village was not entirely under developed or a completely remote area it had access to services within and around the village.

The major intention of the camp was to have the potential social workers be familiar with the rural social system, apart from this the other major aim was to provide the experience of group living to these emerging social workers. In the process of this camp the social work trainees are given several opportunities to develop and to also refine skills like organising and managing, planning, team spirit, evaluation and appreciation and several others. Essentially it aimed at ensuring and providing the trainees a platform to develop themselves as potential social workers and more importantly as human beings.

Planning for the camp-initiated weeks before the actual days of the camp. To ensure smooth functioning two student coordinators namely Mr Aquil C Sunny and Ms Shilpa Thomas were appointed. To furthermore divide and simplify tasks, committees were created for the camp and for each of the 9 committees that were created, a leader was appointed. The committees and the respective leaders included

Transport Committee (Mr Darren Flemming), Food Committee (Ms Stephy Mathew), Program Committee (Ms Anusha Mary James), Cultural Committee (Ms Goldy Ann Jacob), Documentation Committee (Ms Rosanne Ditoso Fernandes), Finance Committee (Mr Vibin Peter), First Aid Committee (Ms Sampita Malakar), Purchase Committee (Mr Karthick Kumar), Cleaning Committee (Ms Anita James). In addition to this there were various themes to be highlighted on each day of the camp, to mention a few of these themes they included Women Empowerment, Child Rights and Sports Day, Youth Empowerment/ Development and so on.

Prior to the actual days of the camp a few pilot visits were carried out by the student coordinators under the guidance of Dr Winnie Joyce A, the camp coordinator, and Dr Jonas Richard A, the camp director and also a few visits were attended by the other faculty members. The pilot visit was mainly planned to understand the village and to also locate spaces for accommodation and other necessities that were required during camp. The output of the visit was later briefly presented to the Head of the department, the other faculty members of the department and the social work trainees. The presentation of the pilot report involved details about the village conditions, the accommodation details, the scope of social work practice in the village and even additional details about the village were briefly provided.

Glimpses of the events during the planning for the camp

23rd May 2022

The day began with the arrival of the trainees and faculty members to the college in the morning at 9.30 am, following which all the necessary instruction and arrangement were made in relation to the camp. However, it was only after receiving the blessings and approval of the principal, Rev Fr Dr Augustine George, did the social work campers along with the faculty leave the campus together for the campsite in the village at Huttanahalli.

Upon reaching the campsite, some time was spent to settle and this was followed by the campers moving around the village in order to introducing themselves and build a rapport with the villagers.

Later an inaugural ceremony was planned in the nearby temple which was the common place to gather for the villagers. Some of the dignitaries for the ceremony included, the sarpanch Dodda Baswaraj, the other panch members, Sr Bhindu from the Ashalaya Trust and the Head of the department. The ceremony began with one of the young local girls being invited to sing a pray song to invoke the blessing of God, next a welcome address was delivered by Ms Jesme Joy (social work trainee) following which the dignitaries were felicitated with a shawl and Dr Jonas Richard A addressed the gathering on how important the camp is in building and exploring ourselves and those around us. After the address by the Head of the department a few words were spoken by Dodda Baswaraj and the directress of Ashalaya Trsut also shared a few words of wisdom to the trainees and also encouraged the trainees to make the best use of the opportunity to learn about the village life. The vote of thanks by Ms Anusha Mary James (social work trainee) marked the end of the inaugural ceremony.

Towards the end, once the campers reached back to the campsite and had dinner, a short while was spent for an evaluation session at 10 pm to identify the strengths of the group of social work campers as well as where they lagged back. Plans for improvement in the next few days were also explored after this the day came to a formal end.

Evaluation sessions for the campers

24th May 2022

The theme for the day was Base Line Survey in the community, in order to better understand the community and the conditions of living in the village.

The survey that was prepared by the programme committee was circulated and pairs were formed; these were temporary and were bound to change every day. After this everyone was taught on how to pronounce certain words and other important basic sentences in Kannada were also shared as most were not fluent in the language.

Following the end of the survey an analysis was done which showed that a majority of the men make any and all decisions of the family. Only a small number of families have both the man and women together making decisions.

Towards the evening half of the day, an intercultural programme was held with an action dance, songs, and a short film screening was also done in order to sensitize the village members on issues like prevention of spread of covid 19 and so on. There were a total of almost more than 80 participants, who all together made a very enthusiastic crowd.

Towards the end of the day, a short while was spent for evaluation to understand the campers progress and areas that needed improvement, all of this was discussed during this time. One of the major agreed upon areas that needed work was not planning but mostly the execution of what was being planned. This led to a formal end of the second day.

Evaluation session:

25th May 2022

The theme for the day was Women Empowerment and Health and Hygiene amongst women.

The day began with a survey being carried out by pairs once again on the theme Women Empowerment and health and hygiene amongst women. Upon distributing themselves in order to cover the village area, the data was collected and was later analysed by a group of social work campers. One of the major findings was that a majority of the women failed to give importance to self-care and put family needs above their own.

During the afternoon half of the day, the Head of the department paid a visit to the campsite, majorly since there was a probability of the principal of the college dropping by the campsite and also to get an update of the happenings in the camp. Hence there were a few campers who worked on the programme for the arrival of the principal to the campsite and the rest worked on the cultural programme for the evening.

However, by noon it was informed that the principal would be unable to visit due to some reasons. The campers hence began to divert all their energy towards the evening programme which involved a role play, regional dance and song and also a screening of a short film. Following the end of the programme, the campers came back to the campsite and had their dinner. After which all the campers began to work on completing the general report for the social work camp, thus the day came to an end.

Cultural Programme:

26th May 2022

The theme for the day was Youth Conditions/ Involvement and Alcohol Consumption in the village.

Once more the day began with a survey being carried out by pairs again on a different theme which was Youth conditions/involvement and alcohol consumption in the village. Upon distributing themselves in order to cover the village area, the data was collected and was later analysed by a group of social work campers. The analysis showed that the consumption of alcohol was indeed present at a high level.

The campers worked on preparing for the cultural programme for the evening. One major setback during the cultural programme was the power cut which led to the failure in screening the short film. However regional dance and songs were played to sensitize the crowd. There was also a role play enacted to highlight the drawbacks of alcohol consumption.

The day came to an end, after the evaluation which had to be ended early due to the unexpected arrival of the rain, thus marking the end of day 4.

The theme for the day was Environment.

The sixth day was a unique one as it focuses on the environment. The day initiated with a drive of planting trees across different parts of the village. This drive was in collaboration with the Ashalaya Trust and the Head of the department as well as the directress of the trust were present. One of the few plants planted were the Jamun tree, which according to the Hindu mythology is called the fruit of God, it was ironical since this sampling was planted within the premises of the nearby temple itself.

Following the drive in the latter half of the day a cleaning drive was conducted in the vicinity of the temple that was close to the campsite, all the campers actively participated in clearing the weeds and other unnecessary plants that surrounded the plants purposefully grown there. The cleaning went on for a couple of hours and also to the formal end of the day's activities.

The trainees also began to gather all their luggage and other belongings, simultaneously preparation for the valedictory session were also being done.

During the valedictory the chief guest was Shree Srinivas who was accompanied by his wife and daughter, apart from him two representatives namely Mr Patrick and Mrs Geeta from Ashalaya Trust were also present. The head of the department was also a part of the valedictory. Another person who played a major role during the stay of the trainee was also present, this person was none other than Mr Devaraj the person who provided the sustenance in the form of food to the trainees from time to time during the camp.

Each of these individuals were felicitated with a token of thanks from the social work trainees. The welcome address was presented by Ms Atira Pressing (social work trainee) while the overview of the camp was delivered by Ms Rosanne D. Fernandes (social work trainee). Towards the end Mr John V Nellangara (social work trainee) gave the vote of thanks to the gathering and this led to the formal end of the programme. The trainees later began to transfer all their baggage and other belongings to the bus that would take them back to the college campus. The trainees along with the faculties reached back to the college campus at 4 pm in the evening. The entire camp experience was truly insightful for almost each of the social work trainees it not only gave them a fresh perspective to look at things but it also increased the understanding amongst the members and gave each individual memories to take back and cherish for the rest of their lives.
